2.3.1 - Student centric methods, such as experiential learning, participative learning and problem solving methodologies are used for enhancing learning experiences

The college uses various student-related methods to enhance and develop learning experience of the students. Experiential Learning: field-based projects are part of syllabus in few subjects and study tours and industry visits. The college encourages students for trekking and adventure programmes arranged by Gujarat University or Government agencies. The College encourages and practices participatory learning, e.g., classroom presentations through oral presentation and PPTs, group discussions, project works, assignments, tests, interactive talks and students' seminars. Students represent various committees and are assigned responsibilities for various curricular and extracurricular activities. These develop leadership and team qualities. On Teachers' Day, General Secretaries become Principal and Vice-Principal and students take on the role of teachers. Students are encouraged to participate in various activities like NCC, NSS, Sports, Youth Festival, etc. at College and University levels. Meritorious students represent Students' Council and representatives of various activities are also co-opted on the Council. Through mentorship, counselling is given in class and at individual levels. CWDC guides for personal, psychological and economical problems is a student faces and for slow learners' remedial classes are arranged. Training in ICT is given for online examinations. The poor and needy students are given financial help.
